

ADVANCE PLANNING

“Advanced planning can assure that you take the time and effort create what will be a meaningful funeral experience for those that will be faced with the need to mourn following your death. You have made a valuable contribution to life. Now, give your survivor’s a tremendous gift by allowing them to have a ceremony that allows for the gentle acknowledgement of the reality of your death, recall your life, express their myriad thoughts and feelings, search for meaning, and receive the ongoing support they will both need and deserve.”
